

Dear Sir or Madam:

My varied work experience and military training serve to make me a viable candidate for a position with your company. The certifications and hands-on experience, as well as the military discipline that I have attained have provided me with the knowledge and skills to function at a high level and in a variety of capacities.

I ask that you consider my qualifications and experience for the position for which I have applied. If given the opportunity to become a part of your workforce, I pledge to give quality performance on a consistent basis.

Thank you for your careful consideration of my application and resume.

Sincerely,

John H. Wynn
